

I've written many pieces in defense of various challenges. What My Mother Doesn't Know made the top ten in 2004, 2005, 2010, and 2011. Plus it's on the top 100 most challenged of the decade. I usually tailor make my defense to reply to specific complaints, which vary vastly.

I've attached a few things. I hope they are helpful.

And here is a link to a radio interview with me:
