

Appendix 23.2. Disrupting the Commonplace and Exploring Multiple Viewpoints

Interrogating the Culture of School Sports: Disrupting the Commonplace

Independent Reflection and Writing:

Are student locker rooms, training facilities, pep assemblies, and competition venues safe places for everyone? Explain.

Partner Share and Reflection:

Share your ideas with a partner and jot down any new understandings and questions based on your conversation.

Interrogating the Culture of School Sports: Exploring Multiple Viewpoints

As we read excerpts from various texts, compare and contrast your observations of school sport culture with those depicted in the novels. What do you notice happening in the excerpt? How do you think the protagonist feels? How would you respond in that situation? What questions does it raise for you?

Excerpt	What do you notice? How does the protagonist feel?	Your response and questions
The Miseducation of Cameron Post by Emily M. Danforth (p. 102) Site: locker room
Parrotfish by Ellen Wittlinger (pp. 119–26) Site: pep assembly
Out of the Pocket by Bill Konigsberg (pp. 65–66) Site: locker room

Out of the Pocket by Bill Konigsberg (pp. 158–65) Site: locker room
Out of the Pocket by Bill Konigsberg (pp. 178–80) Site: training facility
Out of the Pocket by Bill Konigsberg (pp. 193–97) Site: competition venue		